ZADAR
Green oasis of my town
The tradition of creating parks in Zadar has existed since the time of the Roman Empire; in other words, from the very beginning of the urban development of the city.
Parks in Zadar have an important aesthetic and historical value.
Exploring tourist materials that already exist in the city and talking with tour guides, we realized that the parks have unjustly been neglected and in this project we decided to return them former popularity and make them the inevitable points in the tourist offer of our city.
In cooperation with „Nasadi” d.o.o. Zadar, we visited all the parks, found out all the details, discovered the sights and secrets that were hidden.

With the support of the Tourist Board of Zadar, we decided to enrich the existing tourist materials with the new materials regarding parks in Zadar.

Activities of the project team:

- explore the existing tourist materials
- visit all the parks and find out all the details
- take photos
- write texts
- translate texts in six foreign languages
- design and create a new tourist material
Queen Jelena Medijevka Park

- The oldest park in Zadar was established in 1829. due to the splendid idea of baron Franz Ludwig von Welden.
Queen Jelena Medijevka Park

- The park has been completely restored, renewed and illuminated.
Park Vladimir Nazor

- The largest park in Zadar, was created in 1888, thanks to Austrian appointed deputy Dragutin Blažeković.
Park Vladimir Nazor

- In 1968, it was proclaimed a natural monument.
Park Riva

- The most visited urban park and adorable place for strollers, apart from abundant vegetation, offers a stunning view on Zadar Channel, islands and unforgettable sunset.
Park Riva

- The Sea Organs and the Greeting of the Sun give a special charm to this majestic site that has breathed in a new life into the whole city.
Our Lady of Health Park

- It was made in the middle-ages, after a canal was turned into the water tank called Three Wells.
Our Lady of Health Park

- Owing to sixteen bronze busts of famous citizens of Zadar, placed in this park, it is also called “Park of Glory”.
Park Vrulje

- It is situated outside the city nucleus and was named after the numerous water springs and streamlets, which are intertwining into a bigger brook that almost never dries out.
Our parks are an important part of the rich European cultural heritage and deservedly a great pride of the city.
